PRIME, PER SQ FT

- Prices up 17.8% in a year (ValuStrat, Q2 2026) - through a year of regional conflict. Reem +22%, Saadiyat apartments +18%.
- Off-plan is 84% of everything sold in the emirate. The market is buying what's being built, not what's built.
- Prime Abu Dhabi trades at ~$885 a square foot. Dubai prime is ~$1,270. London $2,800. Monaco $5,800. Same money, same buyers, one city still early.
- Scarcity. Dubai sells roughly 15 times more off-plan homes a month than Abu Dhabi. Supply pressure there; a short queue here.
- The week Abu Dhabi outsold Dubai. Last week of August 2026: more value transacted in Abu Dhabi than Dubai for the first time since January 2021 - 193 homes over D10M in one week against Dubai's 30.

PLOT, PER SQ FT

- 52 million square metres - the same footprint as Manhattan, planned at roughly 2% of its population density. Space is the product.
- Six tunnels off the island are planned, including one straight onto the Dubai road - which brings the island materially closer to Dubai than it sits today.
- Land at ~₹1,000 a square foot. A standard Dubai townhouse plot is ~₹2,000. Half the land price for an island address.
- The last launch here did ₹13 billion in days - the biggest off-plan launch in UAE history.
- Al Naseem sold out. The same villa product on the same island - people were fighting over units. Al Naseem was not gated. Wadeem is.
- The flagship mall is opening now, next door to Wadeem.

Island size, density, tunnels and plot pricing as briefed by Modon; items marked "planned" are masterplan intent, not delivered infrastructure. Launch figure as reported by Modon.

OFF-PLAN VILLA
MORTGAGE IN THE UAE

- ₪23 billion sold in the first half of 2026 - more than any developer in the UAE.
- Abu Dhabi's master developer - Hudayriyat, Reem, Saadiyat districts. The land, the infrastructure and the product come from the same company.
- The first off-plan villa mortgage in the country, with ADIB. Explained on pages 7-8.

My own money is with Modon. I bought with them on Reem Island. The process, the paperwork and the communication were what a developer's should be - which is why I'm comfortable putting my name on this document.

What we know.

- Gated villa community on Hudayriyat, beside the new flagship mall.
- 4, 5 and 6-bed standalone villas. Not townhouses - standalone.
- You choose the exterior and the interior of your villa.
- Payment plan: 40 / 60 - 40% through construction, 60% at handover. Expected to run at 5% every six months.
- Mortgage route: 5% down, 15% over 18 months, then mortgage the remaining 80% through to handover.
- EOI: D50,000, by card.

Schedule is Modon's expected structure; the confirmed instalment dates come with the SPA. No agency fee is charged to the buyer on a developer launch.

Off-plan mortgages don't work. Until now.

Every off-plan deal in the UAE has worked the same way: you fund the developer in instalments while it's built, and at handover you either mortgage it or pay the final chunk in cash. Modon has changed that on Hudayriyat, with ADIB - the first off-plan villa mortgage in the country.

- Your cash stops at 20%. The bank funds the remaining 80% - construction instalments included - and you pay the mortgage, not the developer.
- Same villa, same island, half the cash of the 40/60 route to reach handover - and none of the 60% cliff at the end.
- Available on Wadeem - Modon's next launch - for buyers who qualify with ADIB.

Terms, rates and eligibility are ADIB's and Modon's; figures on the next page use a 3.99% illustrative rate over 25 years. Subject to bank approval.

The numbers, by villa.

VILLA	5% DOWN	15% (18 MO)	ADM 2%	CASH IN	MORTGAGE 80%	MONTHLY*
4-bed • ₤8.00M	₤400,000	₤1,200,000	₤160,000	₤1,760,000	₤6,400,000	₤33,746
5-bed • ₤9.00M	₤450,000	₤1,350,000	₤180,000	₤1,980,000	₤7,200,000	₤37,965
6-bed • ₤10.00M	₤500,000	₤1,500,000	₤200,000	₤2,200,000	₤8,000,000	₤42,183

Cash to reach handover: 40/60 vs mortgage route

VILLA	40/60 ROUTE	MORTGAGE ROUTE	DIFFERENCE
4-bed	₤3.36M	₤1.76M	-₤1.60M
5-bed	₤3.78M	₤1.98M	-₤1.80M
6-bed	₤4.20M	₤2.20M	-₤2.00M

On a 5-bed at ₤9M the cash to hold the villa to handover falls from ₤3.78M to ₤1.98M. The ₤1.8M difference is the second villa.

*Monthly at 3.99% over 25 years, illustrative. Mortgage registration 0.25% + ₤290 and bank arrangement fees apply at drawdown and are not included above. Rate, tenure and approval are the bank's.

What the growth does to your cash.

5-bed at D9,000,000, held 3.5 years to handover, then valued. Three growth cases: a conservative 6% a year, a base 10%, and 15% - below Abu Dhabi's actual 17.8% over the last twelve months. Net of the 2% ADM on the way in and a 2% agency fee on the way out.

GROWTH CASE	VALUE AT HANDOVER	NET GAIN	RETURN ON CASH • 40/60	RETURN ON CASH • MORTGAGE ROUTE
Conservative • 6% a year	D11.04M	D1.62M	+43% (+11%/yr)	+82% (+19%/yr)
Base • 10% a year	D12.56M	D3.12M	+83% (+19%/yr)	+158% (+31%/yr)
Recent pace • 15% a year	D14.68M	D5.19M	+137% (+28%/yr)	+262% (+44%/yr)

Why the mortgage route doubles the return

The gain is the same in both routes - it belongs to the villa, not the financing. What changes is the cash it's measured against: D3.78M in the 40/60 route, D1.98M in the mortgage route. Half the cash, the same gain, twice the return - and the mortgage interest through construction is the price of that leverage.

The honest line: at 6% growth the 40/60 buyer makes 11% a year on cash; the mortgage buyer 19%. At 10% it's 19% and 31%. These are projections, not promises - the register decides.

Growth cases are illustrative. Does not include mortgage interest paid during construction, service charges after handover, or rental income. Abu Dhabi rents are currently frozen by decree, which caps yield growth but not capital growth.

The people who got the last launch registered first.

- EOI: D50,000 by card. It's refundable if you don't proceed and it's the only way to be in the room when units and prices are released.
- EOI holders see it first. Unit list, plot map, prices, plans - before the public.
- Launch is imminent. Al Naseem sold out; the D13bn launch went in days. The pattern on this island is that the good plots are gone before most people know it's opened.
- I register you myself and walk you through the plot map before launch day, so you're choosing, not scrambling.
