Why "£90K" became "£94K" - in one line: your obligations are fixed in dirhams (£463,450 through this instalment). At late January's rate of 5.078 that converted to ~£91,250 - the "£90K" we spoke about. Sterling has since eased to ~4.9, so the identical dirhams now cost ~£94K. Nothing was added; the pound moved. Your own running total of £83,053.23 is exactly right.

Next step: settle the remaining ~£51,650 on the 2nd instalment (dated 15 Aug - prompt payment keeps us clear of the contract's 1%/month late clause). Exact-to-the-fil figures will be confirmed against the developer's statement of account and the two cash exchange receipts - any difference adjusts this sheet, not your pocket.
