

Portfolio Review

Seven properties · current position · the payments ahead

PREPARED FOR FRANCIS

As at 27 July 2026 · figures reconstructed from your cash-flow sheet - see assumptions page

PORTFOLIO SNAPSHOT

INDICATIVE VALUE TODAY

≈ ₪28.0M

2 completed at market · 5 off-plan at contract price or mark

MONEY IN

≈ ₪12.2M

net equity in completed (₪6.0M) + off-plan paid to date (₪6.1M)

PROPERTY LOANS

₪4.54M

Terranova ₪2.71M · J362 ₪1.83M - both drawn as planned

PROPERTIES

7

2 completed · 5 off-plan

RENT TODAY → 2029

₪200K → ≈ ₪780K

J362 now; four more starting as handovers land 2028-29

HANDOVERS

2028 – 2029

Nikki Mar 28 · Address Nov 28 · Golf Dec 28 · Grand Polo Apr 29 · Ghaf Jun 29

Sold along the way: J585 for ₪2,100,000 (Apr 2025) and FR Villa for ₪1,537,500 (Jun 2026) - both funded instalments in the plan.

Position in one line: solid completed base, five deliveries coming into a recovering market, and one payment window in 2029 that needs planning ahead of time.

Where prices actually are

Being straight about it: the market has not yet recovered to pre-conflict levels. It has, however, been rising since the worst of the conflict - district data shows the last 3-6 months clearly positive (Jumeirah Golf Estates, as one benchmark: +4.96% over six months) while 12-month figures remain negative. Prices are climbing out of the dip, not back at the peak.

◆ Your handovers are mostly late - that helped

Five deliveries land 2028-29. The dip happened while they were under construction, where interim pricing matters far less than the level at handover.

◆ The completed Lagoons asset is where you felt it

J362's achievable rent today is ~D200K in the current market, down from the D240K in your plan. Values held - Lagoons resales continue to transact - and rents should recover with sentiment, though the timing isn't predictable.

◆ From here

If the post-conflict climb continues, positions marked flat or below today would improve into their handovers. That is the reasonable base case - it is not a certainty, and this year showed why.

COMPLETED PROPERTIES

Terranova 34

Value (your figure)	£6,875,797
Equity loan (Aug 25)	£2,705,022
Net equity	≈ £4,170,775

Value taken from your sheet - I haven't independently marked this one. Happy to run comparables if you send the community/unit details.

DAMAC Lagoons · Costa Brava J362

Sale value today	£3,700,000
Equity loan (Apr 26)	£1,831,000
Net equity	≈ £1,869,000
Achievable rent today	£200,000 / yr

*Rent down from 240K in the current market - the conflict's main mark on your portfolio.
Sale value based on current Costa Brava transactions.*

Combined: ≈ £10.6M of value · ≈ £6.0M net equity · £4.54M drawn and recycled into the off-plan instalments.

OFF-PLAN • FIVE POSITIONS

PROJECT	PRICE	PAID TO DATE	STILL TO PAY	TODAY'S MARK	HANDOVER
Grand Polo Club & Resorts	£9,268,890	£4,078,312	£5,561,334	at original price	Apr 2029
Nikki Beach	£3,043,906	£487,025	see note	~OP • thin data	Mar 2028
Address (unit unconfirmed)	£1,790,888	£537,266	see note	at cost • unverified	Nov 2028
Golf Hillside	£1,688,890	£506,667	see note	~OP • see note	Dec 2028
Ghaf Woods • Capria	£1,771,000	£516,590	≈ £1,328,250	≈ -10% • £1.59M	Jun 2029

Commitments ≈ £17.56M • paid in ≈ £6.13M

Reading the marks: Grand Polo resales are transacting at original prices, so the position is intact but not yet in profit. Golf Hillside resales show exactly original price across the board - data that uniform usually means the developer is managing it; in reality it likely sits slightly below. Nikki Beach has too few resales to mark with confidence. Ghaf Woods is openly trading ~10% below original prices - the one honest discount, with the longest runway (Jun 2029) to come back. Address I can't verify without knowing which project/unit it is. "Still to pay" for Nikki, Address and Golf depends on booking amounts not shown in your sheet - see assumptions page.

The payments ahead - and the 2029 window

2025	2026	2027	2028	2029
+D1.38M	+D1.86M	-D0.11M	-D0.10M	-D2.42M

Per your sheet's own yearly totals (handover payments planned against loans are excluded from these). 2025-26 ran positive because the J585 and FR Villa sales plus the two equity loans funded the instalments. 2027-28 go mildly negative. Then April-June 2029: Grand Polo's final D1,853,778 and Ghaf Woods' D708,400 land within weeks of each other - ≈ D2.56M in one window.

WAYS TO COVER IT - WORTH DECIDING EARLY

- ◆ Sell one or two positions as their handovers approach - whichever is best priced at the time, ideally in profit - and use the proceeds to cover the 2029 payments. The 2028 deliveries (Nikki, Address, Golf) hand over first, into what should be a further-recovered market, which makes them the natural candidates to review.
- ◆ The Grand Polo 50% under-construction loan (D4,634,445) - your sheet already flags checking eligibility. Do this in 2026: criteria and approvals change, and knowing the answer early changes everything about how you plan 2029.
- ◆ The handover loans in your plan (Nikki 40%, Address 20%, Golf 20%, Ghaf 40%) plus rents building toward ≈D780K/yr carry the rest, if you'd rather hold everything.

Assumptions - and what would sharpen this

- ◆ Purchase prices and payment plans are reconstructed from your cash-flow spreadsheet - the instalment amounts decode cleanly (e.g. Grand Polo's £926,889 = exactly 10%, the £370,756 = exactly 4% DLD), but I have not seen the contracts.
- ◆ Booking payments for Nikki Beach, Address and Golf Hillside don't appear in the sheet (payments before April 2024 or made outside it), so "paid to date" and "still to pay" on those three are the scheduled items only.
- ◆ The Address project can't be identified from the sheet - the mark shown is simply cost. Terranova's value is your own figure, not independently checked.
- ◆ Today's marks use current resale evidence where it exists (Costa Brava, Ghaf Woods, Grand Polo) and say so where it's thin (Nikki) or questionable (Golf Hillside).

Send me the statements of account, unit numbers, bedrooms and SPAs and I'll rebuild this with exact paid-to-date figures, verified balances, and a proper per-unit valuation on each - including Terranova and the Address unit.

In good shape - one window to plan.

The portfolio came through the conflict better than most, largely because so much of it was under construction. The completed assets are doing their job, the deliveries land into a rising market, and the one real decision - how to fund the 2029 window - is best made early, not in 2029.

The conflict changed some of the numbers your plan was built on. If you'd like to sit down and work through it - what to hold, what to sell toward handover, the loan sequencing - I'm happy to do that with you.

CALUM MACLEOD • WHITE & CO

Indicative marks based on current transaction evidence and the stated assumptions - not a formal valuation.